

2009-2010 N.I.E. Subscription Order Form

The Sacramento Bee's e-Edition Engaging young readers in their world.

Young readers see newspapers as a useful, dependable and complete source of information. However, the newspaper is not delivered in ways and at times that are attractive to them. The electronic edition of The Sacramento Bee is the solution. The Bee can now be delivered at a time, place and in a format of their choice.

The electronic edition has the same news, sports, features, business and entertainment as the print edition; except in a digital format that you and your students can view on any computer. The e-edition also has exciting new features that will make using the newspaper and teaching even easier. Your students will be able to:

- Search by key words – saves time!
- Establish quick links to their favorite sections.
- Access the last 30 days – great if your students miss something and want to go back.

- Save articles – great for students working on a research paper.
- Print articles on regular 8.5x11 inch paper.

Your subscription comes with a CD filled with teacher guides on nearly every subject for all grade levels. There are also lessons, teacher guides and educational resources available online to help you plan your lessons using the e-edition.

The 2009-2010 N.I.E. subscription is available to all classroom teachers at no cost. The Sacramento Bee's Vacation Donation program (funded by Bee subscribers) sponsors your participation. Simply complete and return the order form below, or enroll online at www.sacbee.com/nie.
